NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The Food Supply Commission. In another column will be found the report of the Food Supply Commission at published in Saturday's Gazette. The members of the Commission state that their inquiries have failed to suggest any practical remedies of real value, but still we think that the suggestions made by them are well worth consideration by the Government and should be carried out. With regard to the meat trade it, is little less than a scandal that the whole supply is in the hands of two men supported by a syndicate, and so long as this state of affairs continues we do not think that it will be price of this very necessary article of diet. Piracy has no doubt a great deal to do with the increased price of meat, for the fact that piracy is ramptant in the districts from which cattle are drawn has been known for some time past. The pirates and brigands either demand large sums from the drovers and owners of the cattle to ensure a safe conduct through their districts, or they waylay the men on their return and rob them of the money received for their cattle. Rven the silk trade has been seriously interfered with from the same cause, the Canton importers fearing to send the money for their purchases up country and the growers fearing to send their silk to Canton, owing to the very unsettled state of the country. Still, from a perusal of para 6 of the report, it is very evident, that a great deal of rascality is practised by this meat syndicate; for we are told that the two men examined were mainfestly prevaricating and concealing the truth during the whole course of their examination. It is a thousand pities that they were not promptly dealt with for wilful perjury.

Rents have undoubtedly a great influence on the prices of all foodstuffs, and more especially upon those which are cheapest, for a rise in rent to a man who does but a small business in fresh vegetables means much more than a similar rise to the man who deals largely in something of a more expensive nature. The opening up of new building sites and the laying of tramways and the general improvement of the means the opposition of those who are reaping a or moderate; unsettled, probably some rain. golden harvest from the present state of affairs to be first overcome. Then, too, we have a larger fleet and garrison to feed than we had a few years ago and we have to export a considerably a larger amount of-fresh food stuffs to Manila to supply the wants of the American troops. This sudden increase demand thas certainly had a great effect upon prices, for it is hardly reasonable to suppose that the productiveness of the surrounding country has as suddenly increased in like ratio. If we could but do away with the Americans at Manila and dispense with our increased garrison and fleet matters would right themselves to a great extent, but that would be cutting our own throats with a vengeance.

We believe that the real root of the matter lies in the fact that the Colony is not selfsupporting in the matter of fresh food stuffs. Until the acquisition of the New Territory, such a state of affairs was out of the question, but now that this large increase in our territory has been made there is ample room for us to grow all that we require. Of course the inhabitants of the New Territory cannot be expected to take the initiative without encouragement. For hundred of years they have been content to grow their own rice and a few vegetables for their own consumption and it is hardly reasonable to suppose that they will at once depart from the old order of things. That they are ready to do so when encouraged is certain, for since the acquisition of the Hinterland, vegetables for the Hongkong market are being grown in China." several localities which hitherto only grew articles for home consumption.

matter in hand and establish a few small market gardens and farms here and there | Convent :--throughout the New Territory? We would be inclined to go further than the suggestion of the Commission and have these experimental gardens and farms quite separate from the Police Department. A policeman is not necessarily a skilled horticulturalist, and we fear that if the Police Stations were certain amount of control were to be ex- but in that case the expiration of the period of ercised over producers the suspicion of the natives would be aroused and would tend to render the scheme less successful than might otherwise be the case. Why not have a special man appointed for the work under the Botanical Department and let him have a free hand in the distribution of seeds etc., throughout the new Territory? Let any experimental gardens and farms started be under his control, and we fancy the affair would prove a success.

The suggestion made by the Commission anent the encouragement of cattle breeding is good. There are thousands of acres waiting to be stocked, just across the hills at the back of Kowloon City, and once the villagers found that they were assisted to obtain cattle and were encouraged to bring them to market here and so make a good profit, we believe that they would readily take up the matter.

But before anything of the sort can be done we require good communication. Let the Government establish a good ferry service between different points in the New Territory and Hongkong. It will probably involve a loss at first, but so soon as the villagers have learnt to appreciate the fact; means by which their produce may be brought to market they will rise to the occasion and within a very short time the ferry service would be a self-supporting concern. If we want cheap fresh food stuffs -we-must take steps to render ourselves independent of outside contributions and this cannot be done unless the matter is seriously large supply of munitions of war.

On Saturday evening Mr. John Lambert, Superintending Engineer of the Cosmopolitan Dock, read an extremely interesting and instructive paper on "Liquid Fuel and it's uses as a propelling power," before the Institution of Engineers and Shipbuilders of Hongkong.

The chair was taken by Mr. R. Cooke, who introduced Mr. Lambert.

The lecturer commenced by saying, "I wish to deal more with the mechanical uses than with the chemical composition of the fuel and its gases, and in so doing have to rely not only on what practical experience I have had in that branch of engineering, but also on information collected by study, and information gathered from engineers with whom I have come into contact, who have been able to give melany experiences on the subject; nor do-I wish to extol the advantages of the use of liquid fuel, without considering the disadvantages or the difficulties encountered thereby. However, I venture to hope that the small amount of information collected may not be without some interest to the members of this Institution, and may at all events form the basis of a profitable and interesting discussion.

"It is only within the last few years that liquid-fuel has come within the province of British engineers, owing to the fact that hitherto it has only been practically obtainable in the vicinity of the Caspian Sea at such a price that rendered commercially impossible. Within the last few years, however, a considerable change has taken place. New oil fields have been discovered, and the number of places on the eastern route at which liquid fuel can be obtained has increased so enormously that engineers and shipbuilders are turning their attention to the able, and for shipowners to consider whether it is not an economy to use it if not in preference to, at least in conjunction with coal in vessels | trading eastward.

"Liquid fuel is by no means a new suggestion. It is quite a generation ago since it, was first thought posssible to use liquid fuel instead of coal for the propulsion of ships, but there have hitherto been two evidence to prove that a combination exists drawbacks. First there has been no regular supply of fuel, then the want of suitable the fact that practically the whole supply is in appliances for injecting the oil into the furnaces was so serious as to make it impossible to use supported by a syndicate, and from whom other it on board ships. As regards the first the difficulty is disappearing now that the new oil individual effort and enterprise, give them a fields have proved so extensive, and that large. storage tanks of four and five thousand tons as they please. The fact also that the two capacity have been erected at all stopping sta- individuals put forward as owners of this large tions from Port Said to Japan.

"The second objection, however, is not disappearing so quickly, although great improvement is being made in the apparatus for injecting the oil into the furnaces, still there is room for course of their examination they were manifesta greater improvement in this respect, as the ly prevaricating and concealing the truth, best burners of to-day are only slight modifications of a burner used in 1874. That seems to able. have been the simplest pattern of the sprayer class of burners and the foundation of all recent

"Before going into the details of the different kinds of injectors I will point out the advantages of the use of liquid fuel could the ideal of possible. perfection be obtained, but which I do not consider has get been reached; still they are on the way to that result with the experiments and practical results that some of our interested engineers and shipbuilders are from time to time obtaining. Allowing that a complete combustion is obtained and which is quite impossible; that the flame is so distributed that no injurious effects are transinetted to the plates of the boiler, and that the fuel is carried in well-constructed tanks so that any leakage is out of the question, then. I think the following would be some of the advantages of liquid fuel as used on steamships :---

(1) No lost heat, no smoke or soot. (2) No ashes or clinkers, and consequently no fires to clean, with the accompanying loss of heat and drop in the steam pressure—the steam pressure being maintained at one point throughout the voyage.

(3) The boiler tubes are always free from soot, and clean, and therefore always in the best condition for transmitting the heat from gases passing through them to the water of the

(4) The admission of air to the furnaces being under complete control, and the furnace fuel being burnt in fine particles in close contact with the oxygen of the air, only a very small excess of air above that actually necessary for the complete combustion of the fuel is required. With coal, in order to ensure as much heat as possible, a very much larger "excess of air is required,"

ROYAL ENGINEER VARIETY

The above Club gaves very enjoyable entertainmentat the Royal Engineer's Theatre, Wellington Barracks, on Saturday evening.-The picturesque little theatre was crowded with a most appreciative audience, who from start to finish hadn't a dull moment.

The first part of the programme opened with a march "The Palace Guard," played by the orchestra and was followed by a succession of songs which were admirably rendered by such old favourites, as S. Sergt. H. A. Ward, R.A.M.C., who proved himself again a true comedien.-Pie. I. Byles, R.A.M.C., whose singing of "I wonder if the Old Folks think of me?" showed his powerful voice to great advantage; S. Sergt. Burnett cause roars of laughter by his quaint rendering of "Wages,"-and Sapr. W. J. Dockree, R. E. Ar. Sgt. Viggon and Sergt. G. Simmers, R.E. all well deserved the hearty applause they received. The first part terminated with a sketch, and was followed by Part II, which again gave us the pleasure of listening to the artists who had proved themselves so capable in the previous part. The whole programme concluded with an excellent performance of the sketch entitled. "An unfinished Gentleman."

Special mention must be made of the most artistic scenery by Lce-Corpl. Wilmshurst R. E. who also deserves praise for the able manner in which he performed the duties of stagemanager. Another performence is to be given to-night, when there will probably be a change of programme.

QUARANTINE.

We have received the following letter for publication :-

Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce,

13th April, 1901. ... Dear Sir,-I beg to inform you that this Chamber learns from the Government that the Venice Sanitary Convention, Regulations are, being imposed at all ports in the Madras Presidency against arrivals from Sainan, Formosa, and from Hongkong: also that the Bengal Government are strictly imposing these regulations in the port of Chittagong against vessels arriving from Hongkong.

> I am, dear Sir. Yours faithfully,

The following is the report of the above Commission as published in the Gazette: -REPORT BY THE UNDERSIGNED, MIMBERS OF THE FOOD COMMISSION APPOINTED

19TH MAY, 1900. (11) A number of meetings were held, witnesses examined, and a mass of information obtained from Steamship Lines, Hotels, The Gaol, The Government Civil Hospital, Military Authorities, and other sources. (2-) An advertisement asking information from householders was inserted in the local. Papers, to which 8 persons (ladies) replied.

(3.) The following table shows the percentage of rise in the wholesale and retail prices in 5 years :--Articles. Wholesale. Bread, ....

Fish, ..... 13 per cent Beef, ..... 33 Mutton, ..... 25 Eggs, .......... 50 Fowls, ..... 45 Ducks,..... 50 Potatoes, ..... 25 Firewood, ..... 90 Ground Nut Oil, 110 Rice ..... 33

(4.) Beyond natural fluctuations of supply and demand, the main causes of this increase have been :-

(a.) Depreciation of Silver. (b.) Increased Cost of Rice.

(c.) West River Piracy. (d.) Increased Rents.

(c.) Enforcement of Sanitary Laws. (5) The augmentation of the Military and-Naval forces in Hongkong and Mamia has contributed towards a rise in certain commodities, as the sources of supply are limited and take time to accommodate themselves to the increased demands. .(6.) Whilst it is difficult by means of direct with the object of keeping up the price of meat, the hands of two men, who acknowledge being market butchers buy, must tend to crush other monopoly, and enable them to regulate prices business in a trade which has a world-wide reputation for being most lucrative, swore they have been losing money in it during three consecutive years, and that during the whole makes all evidence on this point most unreli-

(7) We consider that Market rents are not excessive (except in particularly choice situations) and have not contributed to the increase. At the same time we regard rents as a tax on food, and think they should be kept as low as

(8.) Our enquiries have failed to suggest any practical remedies of real value, and, bearing in mind the many objections there are to legislative interference in trade affairs, we can only make the following recommendations:-

(a.) That increased Market accommodation be provided and meanwhile, in order to relieve pressure on existing Markets, that fruit and vegetables be sold outside in licensed shops.

(6.) That Markets be used for the sale of perishable food-only, Biscuits, Hams, Tinned Meat, Jams and such like stores should not be sold in Markets, as the letting of stalls for such purposes tends to crowd out the legitimate vendors of fresh produce. (c.) That further endeavours be made to stamp out piracy.

. (d. The cheapening of rents by opening now building areas with means of conveyance by tramways and ferries. (e.) The reduction of Market rents to such level as will provide just sufficient funds to cover interest on capital and working expenses. Markets should not be source of profit. (%) The encouragement of foreign ladies to make their own purchases, by having the Markets kept clean and by clearing the passages of loafers, (9.) We recommend that an attempt be made to encourage the villagers of the New Territory to breed cattle by providing them with funds for the purchase of stock (to be repaid when the animal is brought to market) or with heifers from a Government stockyard.

(10.) We also recommend that an attempt be made to induce them to grow vegetables and rear poultry, and suggest that attached to each. Police Station should be a European gardener whose business, assisted by Chinese, it would be to cultivate vegetables as an object lesson to surrounding natives and to provide them with seed imported by Government. (11.) We specially recommend that trials be made in the New Territory (Shatin Valley for instance) in growing Potatoes. The best Potatoes sold in Hongkong are. those grown at Macao, and it does not appear unreasonable to suppose that what will grow near Macao will grow equally well in the New (12.) We desire to state in conclusion that the delay in the publication of the Food Commission Report has been due to the Chairman of the Commission being unable to afford the time for the presecution of the enquiry and the preparation of the Report.

"that the delay in the publication of " the Food Commission Report has been-" due to the Chairman of the Commission "being unable to afford time for the prosecution of the enquiry and the preparation of the Report."

There was no delay in the prosecution of the inquiry. The members were unable to sit for more than two days in the week for a couple of hours each day and the taking of evidence was proceeded with with all due diligence and was completed in July last. The delay has been in the preparation of the draft report, and I regret to say, that my time was so fully occupied with my own business that I could not get it completed in time to satisfy the impatience of my colleagues. I am unable myself to see that there was any very great urgency. I was preparing a very full and detailed report, twothirds of which had been completed and, approved by Mr. Marshall, to whom I sent it a short time ago, with a request that he would, as I was so full of work, finish it for me, he being fully acquainted with my views and concurring in them.

Instead of doing so, a meeting of the other members of the Commission was held, to which I was not summoned, and the report prepared ! which has been sent you.

I probably ought not to have accepted the appointment as a Member or Chairman of the Commission knowing how fully occupied I am in my profession at all times. If I have put the Government to any inconvenience by so doing I apologize to the Government and to the public.

NOTES FROM NATIVE PAPERS

SHANGHAI, April 10th. "ROUSING A SENSE OF SHAME IN MEN" is the title of the Shen Pav's leader. Everybody says China is weak and poor but the general answer to the question how to change this is unsatisfactory. It is said that China should drill her troops and introduce machinery so that there might be internal peace and freedom from foreign oppressison, build railways and open mines. Or more important still, she should establish schools everywhere for the nurture of able men. The writer thinks that ! this does not touch the root of the trouble. These things, though not as universally tried as they should be, have yet been tried, and yet China is troubled within and without, proving that drilling and machinery are not to be relied on to cure a nation's ills. Nor have the hundred and odd schools established by the officials produced men of ability. So that even education fails to save China. Why? "Because men have not a proper sense of shame." Take the officials. Though there are a few virtuous ones, yet the majority are corrupt and utterly selfish and without shame. How can their subjects be anything different? Again look at oursoldiers, drilled and fed for years, yet when there is war they do not stop to received the onset of the foe, but turn tail and run, so that it is said that all their wounds are in their backs | Are they not utterly devoid of a sense of shame at their disgraceful defeats. Nor are the scholars, the real leaders of the people, a whit better. Their decay is as sure and rapid as the stream of a great, river, always going downwards. They are lazy in their studies, intent on reputation surely without a sense of shame. Confucius said: "If the people are led by laws and uniformity be sought to be given them by punishments, they will try to avoid the punishment, but have no sense of shame. If they be led by virtue and uniformity be sought to be given them by the rules of propriety, they will have the sense of shame and moreover will become good." Mencius said: "All men naturally possess a sense of shame." Unfortunately there is wanting the stimulus to shame, and people to exhort the people, so that they may have this sense of shame. Our only hope is that there are those in-office who will perform this duty. The foregoing article is a noteworthy confession on the part of a conservative Chinese. The sense of shame, which he acknowledges as lacking in the Chinese high and low, is simply due to the deadness of conscience. But how it is to be aroused the writer can not tell, except by the forlorn appeal to that very class, which he says earlier in his article does not itself possess the missing

A MAN WHO KNOWS THIS FEELING of shame, simngely enough, writes in the same day's Su l'ao under the above heading from Peking as follows, "Ever since the Boxer trouble began the powers look upon us with more contempt than, ever as wild barbarians. In Peking and Tientsin the allies treat Chinese than African negroes or Hindoos. But I lately heard that Sir Robert Hart has said to a certain Minister that the Chinese, are very intelligent and more patient than the people of any other continent. In 20 years time they will overrun the earth, said Sir Robert. This language has also been used by Bismarck and Lord Chas. Beresford. But to the present time the Chinese are stupid and weak, so that these words are merely flattery, or ridicule. Would that China's four. hundred millions might hear these words and justify the flattery or shame their ridicule and not be entitely without the sceling of shame." Liu K'un-yi in the Edict of another column cashiers a man for this shamelessness.

THE "UNIVERSAL GAZETTE" IS ANGRY with foreign pations and claims their attitude on the Russian question is not friendly to China. It fears that though the signing of the treaty has been postponed it will be signed, sooner or later, the evil day cannot be postponed very long. Jang Ju's leg is not going fourteen pounds of sugar from the China Sugar, to do as an excuse for forever postponing the Refinery. He was carrying it covered over signing. The writer uses a capital illustration. The bird called the oystercatcher sees an. The prisoner said he was given the basket oyster on the shore, puts his bill into it and the oyster closes, so he is caught. The fisherman comes along and seeing both of them in a difficulty at one swoop sweeps them both into his basker. So while the nations disagree,

Russia will be sure to be the gainer. THE PROGRAMME OF REPORM is foreshadowed in the Universal Garette. The Southern Viceroys, it hears, have agreed in general that foreign plans must be selected in order to supplement Chinese plans. The details are given under nine headings, 1 .--Princes and lofty officials must travel. 2.-There must be travelling schools, in every Cha Shui and Tsan Lok, the proprietors, were be established. 5.—Foreign military drill used. ### THE FAR EAST IN PARLIAMENT.

LOOTING BY TR OPS IN CHINA. March 11th.

Mr. Robertson asked the Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs whather the Government had any information to show that looting and pillage had been committed by British or other European troops in or near Peking or Tientsin, and that valuable property thus plundered had been publicly sold under the direction of British officers; whether such conduct was contrary to the modern usagesof waras declared by The Hague Convention; and whether the Government intended to adopt any means for the restitution of the property so taken and for such punishment of the offenders as their conduct may deserve.

Lord G. Hamilton, who replied, said : So far as I know there has not been any pillage or plunder by British troops in China in the sense implied by the question. General Gaselee reported in August last that "looting was openly tolerated among certain of the Allied troops, and every effort was made by him to prevent our soldiers from participating in the indiscriminate plunder and wanton destruction of property which was prevalent elsewhere (Hear, hear.) In the areas assigned to British occupation there were a number of derelict houses. General Gaselee directed that the ownerless property so left should be taken charge of by authorised search parties, and, where the legal owner could not be found, sold by public auction for the benefit of all. There has not been any violation of The Hague Convention.

Mr. E. Robertson asked whether it would be possible to have General Gaselee's report presented to the House.

Mr. Tully asked whether it was not a fact that at Christie's there was a good deal of selling of things taken as loot in China.

Lord G. Hamilton said that possibly night be so, but it did not necessarily follow that the things were looted by British troops. As to the question of the hon. member for Dundee, he was rather doubtful, as General Gaselee's report referred not only to British but to other troops.

NAVAL FORCES IN CHINESE WATERS. (12th.) Sir C. Furness asked the Secretary to the Admiralty if he would inform the House as to the number and description of ships representing Great Britain in Chinese waters and on the Yangtsze River, and also as to the number and description of the ships represent ing each of the other European Powers and the United States. Mr. Arnold-Forster: The naval forces of Carote, H. the Powers named now in Chinese waters appear from the last published returns to be as follows :- Great Britain : Four battleships, fifteen cruisers, twenty-three small vessels, of which two cruisers and four small vessels are on the Yangtsze River. France: One battleship, nine cruisers, twenty-two small vessels, of which three small vessels are on the Yangtsze. Russia: Five battleships, six cruisers, twenty small vessels and torpedo-boats. Germany: Four battleships, ten cruisers, ten small vessels, of which two cruisers and two small vessels are on the Yangtsze. Italy: Six cruisers. Austria: Four cruisers, of which one is on the Yangtsze, Portugal: One cruiser, two small vessels. United States: One battleship, two coast defence ships, eight cruisers, two small vessels.

INDIAN TROOPS IN NORTH CHINA.

Sir M. Bhownageree asked the Secretary of State for India whether he head any official information showing that the Indian troops and camp followers serving in North China were not provided with such suitable warm clothing as would enable them to resist the intense cold of that region, and "that consequently they suffered great hardships; and whether he would state how many casualties and deaths from sickness had occurred among them up to the date of the last official reports received here or in India.

Lord C. Hamilton: I have not seen the reports referred to. An ample supply of warm clothing was provided for troops and followers. and we have no reason to suppose that deficiencies exist in this respect. The percentage of sick troops in hospital from all causes on Jan. 1st was only 31. The deaths have not been miralty explanatory of the Navy Estimates for 1001-2 contains the following references to the Garis, H. L. Naval Division in the Far East: The China Greenwood, I Fleet has been considerably increased during the past tweive months. The Dide, Isls, and Astrasa from the Mediterranean, the Arethusa Goodwin, L. from the Pacific, the Wallaros, Mohawk, and Coorgeson, J. Lizard from Australia, and the Marathon from the East Indies were all sent to that Station during the disturbances last year for temporary service. Of these, the Marathon has returned to her Station, the Dide and Ists have been replaced by other Cruisers in the Mediterrancan, and will remain in China; the Mohawk has been replaced in Australia, and is now returning home. The Glory, Argonaut, and two Destroyers (Otter and Janus) have been added to the Fleet in Chinese waters, and the Harris, A. C. Ocean left Malta on Feb. 2 to join them. The Robin, River Cunboat, has been commissioned for service in the West River, and the Steamer Ploneer has been purchased and will be fitted as a Gunboat for service on the Yangtere Kiang. | Honey, B. A Naval Brigade participated in the International advance to Peking, and on the occupation of the city, returned to their ships. The Government of South Australia offered the services of the South Australian Gunboat Protector for service in China during the disturbances of last year. The offer was accepted for four months, and the Protector served in China from September till the end of November. The Commander-in-Chief reported that the Protector was most useful, being an efficient and well-kept man-of-war, reflecting credit on captain, officers and men. The Governments of New South Wales and Victoria similarly offered the services of Colonial Naval Brigades, consisting respectively of 300 and 200 officers and men for service in China, These offers were accepted, and the Brigades have been employed on shore under the General, where they did good service. They will return home by the end of March.

Mention is also made of the fact that the River Gunboat Sandpiper sank during a typhoon at Hongkong in November, but was successfully raised. One life was lost THERAPION No. 1, in a few days only, removes all discharges from the urinary organs, effectually, superseding injections, the use of which does irreparable harm by laying the foundation of stricture and other serious diseases. In dysentery, piles, irritation of the lower bowel, cough, bronchitis, asthma, and some of the more trying complaints of this kind, it will be found astonishingly efficacious; affording prompt relief where other well-tried remedies have been powerless.

THERAPION No. 2, for impurity of the blood, scurvy, pimples, spots, blotches, pains and swellings of the joints; secondary symptoms, disease of the bones, sore throat, and all diseases for which it has been too much a fashion to employ mercury, sarsaparilla, &c., to the destruction of the sufferer's teeth and ruin of health. This preparation purifies the whole system through the blood, and throughly eliminates every poisonous matter from the

THERAPION No. 3, for nervous exhaustion, wasto of vitality, and all the distressing consequences arising from early error, excess, residence in hot, unhealthy climates, occ. it possesses surprising power in restoring strength and vigour to the debilitated. THERAPION may be procured of the principal Chemists and Merchants throughout the world. Price in England 2/9 and 4/6. In ordering, the purchaser should state which of the three numbers he requires, and observe that the word "THERAPION" appears on the Government, Stamp (in white letters on a red ground) affixed to every genuine package by order of Hor Majesty's Hon.
